

BCI – Better Cotton Initiative

The Better Cotton Initiative (BCI) aims to promote sustainable cotton production. By supporting the BCI, we are doing our part to make global cotton production more sustainable. Using cotton from sustainable production in our materials is important to us.

We would like to share the following statement about our approach to the BCI – Better Cotton Initiative:

The Groth & Hermanns Group declares that it is familiar with the Better Cotton Initiative (BCI). As part of its sustainability strategy, the Group has obtained confirmation from its suppliers regarding the cotton used in production. The Group also ensures that the materials used to produce items bearing the BCI label are produced in accordance with the BCI.
